The Doctors of Prairie

Gregory J. Mishkel, M.D.

Interventional Cardiology, Peripheral Vascular Disease

"Each patient's unique history, anatomy, personality and family are what brings the practice of medicine alive. My goal is to restore a good quality of life as each patient defines it. Consequently, I strongly believe that doctors must be good listeners to hear what each patient needs. When every day is done, I want to be able to say, "Today I did some good"."
